Dear Gary:

On behalf NSBA and our all-small-business all-volunteer Board of Trustees, I want to thank you for your commitment to small business and your generous support.

As I am sure you are aware, moving legislation forward continues to be a challenge in Washington. But with your help, we can cut through the “noise” and make sure that the real needs of small businesses get addressed. As it’s made more clear by the day, our government is plagued by partisanship. However, we stay focused on the fact that support for small business—the beating heart of the American miracle—should in no way be seen as a partisan special interest. As such, we are making real progress in making sure that any tax reform addresses the real needs of smaller companies, and we are beginning to see progress in our efforts to roll back the regulatory state.

The work and effectiveness of our association—much like the economy overall—does not begin in Washington, D.C. NSBA’s national membership continues to work together on a non-partisan basis to produce solutions to the problems we face. The membership response to NSBA surveys provides the Congress, the Executive Branch and the media up-to-date information on the health of the small business community. Member participation on various committees and councils provides us with input helping to shape policy. NSBA members also testify before Congress on a regular basis on critical small business issues. In addition, letters sent to Members of Congress through NSBA’s Action Center has been essential in communicating the message to Capitol Hill.

These efforts individually and combined sends a strong message to decision makers. But, we could not do this without you. I want to again thank you for your support and look forward to our continuing relationship.

Sincerely,
